JFK ACCUSED OF ADULTERY

Kennedy Leaving Girl Friend's House at 1 A.M. Thunderbolt Exclusive

Courageous D.C. Woman Bares "Love-Nest" Scandal

The press of America has since 1958 refused to publish the following fully documented story. This information has been furnished by Florence Mary Kater (Mrs. Leonard Kater) of Washington, D.C.

In 1958 John F. Kennedy was a United States Senator representing the State of Mass. He was at that time being boomed nationwide for President of the U.S.A. Sen. Kennedy had as his Secy., Miss Pamela Turnure (17 years younger than Kennedy.) Kennedy was at this time married to his present wife Jackie. On this page is a picture of Kennedy leaving a house owned by Mrs. Florence Kater at one o'clock in the morning on July 11, 1958. Kennedy had subleased this apartment for Miss Turnure as a place for discreet rendezvous. After establishing Miss Turnure in these quarters, John F. Kennedy began keeping very late hours in seclusion with Miss Turnure.

The photograph snapped on this page was taken by Mr. Leonard Kater, as Kennedy left at one o'clock the morning of July 11, 1958. IF HE WERE NOT GUILTY OF MISCONDUCT, WHY DID HE ATTEMPT TO HIDE HIS FACE. Mrs. Kater is a devoutly religious lady. She felt, (as millions of other decent Christian ladies and gentlemen would,) that the moral conduct of a man seeking the very highest office in the land should be above all reproach. Kennedy has led the American public to believe that he is the ideal family man.

Therefore any news to the contrary should be made known to the general public. Mrs. Kater has made this information available to all major newspapers, magazines, journalists and organizations. Mrs. Kater informs us that we are the first with courage enough to touch this story.

But that is not where the story ends, PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY, A MARRIED MAN, CONTINUES TO BE THE DEBAUCHER OF A GIRL YOUNG ENOUGH TO BE HIS DAUGHTER. And his cynical knowledge that the press will cover up for him is such that he has brought her into the White House itself as his wife's press secretary!

Miss Pamela Turnure was given this prestige post immediately after the inaugural. She declared she knew nothing about journalism or press relations; that everyone would have to be "very patient" with her.

Mrs. Kater tells her own story. The following is quoted from a copy of a letter from Mrs. Kater to N.B.C. on Oct. 28, 1961. "All three people involved in the White House triangle have similar social backgrounds, know and understand each other very, very well and have come to terms in a working arrangement that is mutually satisfactory.

Referring to the new "French Look" at the White House perhaps it should be called a "menage a trois." That's French for the husband, wife and mistress living happily together under the same roof. But the average American with no clan-nightspot-or social register arbiters to guide him, would call the married life of President and Mrs. Kennedy dunghill and would demand that John F. Kennedy be thrown out of office for moral turpitude. The press and dozens of periodicals continue to outdo each other in "describing" the wise, tender and beautiful marriage of the First Family. It is none of these things; it is however Big Business in the publishing field; and the poor mislead readers continue to buy bigger and bigger lies. Even so, many of them sense that "there's something wrong somewhere." It was most unusual to find the Scripps-Howard papers saying this past Oct. 19th, that Mrs. Kennedy spent three days at the White House (for official receptions) the longest period since last spring. Well it was that way for years before the presidential race but the press and John Kennedys campaign literature kept that a secret."

To get back to Robert Kennedy. In 1958 he knew of this affair and did nothing to stop it. Rather, for a long time, he tried to stop me. But my husband still has his job. I still have my health. I still have my freedom. And Robert Kennedy, the Attorney General of the United States, still gets carbon copies -- and sometimes originals -- of anything I write concerning the domestic setup in the White House. I speak from personal knowledge and have total proof of John Kennedy's moral unfitness to be the President of the United States.

In 1960 during the presidential campaign Robert Kennedy did not try to put a stop to the swindle inherent in John Kennedy's campaign literature and press releases describing himself as a devoted husband worthy to head up the nation's First Family. In fact, emboldened by an adulatory and protective press Senator Kennedy frequently amused himself flinging dollars from his dunghill onto the trusting assemblage by taking his girlfriend along on his campaign tours. He's a very nasty, nasty monkey!

Americans, perhaps unlike many other people, do place great value on the integrity of their president's married life. Women voters outnumber men and they are deeply interested in a candidate's wife and his home life.

They read all the information (or misinformation) they can find about a candidate's marriage. They look at him and his wife on television. And they listen to the endorsements of respected people in high places of this or that candidate.

But in 1960 the vast, vast majority of American women were hoaxed by the press, by television and by many influential people into believing that John Kennedy was the same clean-living man they read about or listened to on the air. This wasn't just everyday political cynicism; IT WAS A BRUTAL COMBINATION OF POWER that could and did enforce total censorship of the truth about John Kennedy's well-known lecheries and his penchant to ruin anyone who dared criticize him for them. And I went out, all alone, to fight it with my little windbattered sign. BUT FAR FROM BEING A FOOL, I WAS THE ONE WOMAN IN AMERICA WHO WASN'T FOOLED BY JOHN KENNEDY. I didn't turn into a rhinoceros; I wasn't one of a nation of sheep.

Kennedy Threatens Mr. Kater

The press can't plead in good faith that the subject of John Kennedy's personal morals was "too difficult" to get at; too "sticky to mention. There were two opportunities served up by Senator Kennedy himself to bring this matter to the public, where it belonged. First the McInerney visits to out home over a period of six months. I can't go into them here but the press knew of them. Mr. James McInerney's name was on the sign I carried in front of the White House. He is now a Washington Kennedy-family lawyer; and was a former Assistant Attorney General and Head of the Criminal Division of the F.B.I. On his last visit to my home, in a signed statement, Mr. McInerney made it possible for me to identify Rep. William H. Bates (R. Mass.) as the man who accompanied Senator Kennedy when he told my husband in my presence, THAT HE HAD CHECKED INTO HIS JOB AND WOULD SEE TO IT THAT HE LOST IT IF I EVER BOTHERED HIM AGAIN.

The second opportunity to get somewhere near the truth about Senator Kennedy was more than golden; it was gem-studded and platinum. On May 14, 1960, just before the Maryland primaries, I approached Senator John Kennedy at a political rally at the University of Maryland as he started to talk. I carried an enlarged picture of him leaving his girlfriend's house at 1 o'clock in the morning; this girlfriend being one of his secretaries at the time. I asked him why the picture had almost cost my husband his job; and why was he hiding his face. Several press photographers (Associated Press was one) snapped the encounter. A smiling policeman came forward and, to the tune of boos and hisses, escorted me to the rear of the gymnasium. There were many vacant seats and we were invited by the policeman to remain provided I caused no more commotion; he added pleasantly that he was sure the Senator would answer my questions after the rally. We had heard the same speech the night before in Baltimore (where I learned something about timing the hard way). I had gotten public attention for the picture; so my mission seemed over for the night. We decided to leave. A small group ran after us and Chanted; "It looks like Tricky Dicky! It looks like Tricky Dicky! Well, they had been "educated" to that sort of thing by the press. But angry as it made us, we both nearly exploded trying to keep a straight face. It was often to be like that.

To its chagrin The Washington Star ran a picture of my confrontation with Senator Kennedy and a small article describing me a heckler. It was late Saturday night and the Star photographers took it upon themselves to run what seemed to them at the time just a little "human interest" story. But they soon found out it was deadly serious when Senator Kennedy's aides were saying after his speech that the picture was some sort of fake made up by religious fanatics in Wisconsin! I have never been in Wisconsin. I am and have been since birth a Roman Catholic.

Story Checked Out

At 2:30 the following morning three Washington Star photographers pounded on our door. They were Gene Abbott, Randolph Routt and Mr. Wood. They said they were in serious trouble potentially because they had been personally responsible for running the picture of my confrontation with the Senator and a small article where in I claimed the picture was taken in Georgetown (a section of Washington, D. C.) They further said they knew at a glance that the picture had been taken in Georgetown and not in Wisconsin; and also their professional eye saw that the picture was in no way faked or retouched. But, since the Senator's aides were saying the picture was a fake, the work of crackpot Wisconsin bigots, they had to know the exact spot in Georgetown where the picture had been taken -- else they were likely to find themselves among the unemployed. My husband steadied them with a drink and told them where they would find the place. A few hours later Gene Abbott telephoned to say they found the exact spot and had photographed it exactly as it appeared on the end of my picket sign; with the tree, fence, lamppost and background buildings all in place; only this time it was Mr. Gene Abbott who fast stepped across the pavement, just like the Senator, while his colleagues photographed the proof they needed. That must have been a wild, wild scene that Mr. Abbott and his friends will never forget. Mr. Abbott said that even with the proof safely in their pocket they were not out of trouble yet; that there might be "serious repercussions" and there'd be hell to pay for all of them. His closing

Sir:

I have personal knowledge and proof that Miss Pamela Turnure, press secretary in the White House to Mrs. John F. Kennedy, has an illicit sexual relationship with President John F. Kennedy.

Under the circumstances I feel it is in the national interest to call this matter to your attention as a very possible security risk.

Very truly yours, remark was, "If it were anyone else you can be sure it would be all over the front page."

Yes--suppose this had happened to the other candidate. The press would collar him with the information that the Star's three top photographers had taken their own pictures of the spot in question and it was in Georgetown; and what did he have to say about that? Then the press would ask, "Why did your aide say it was taken in Wisconsin by religious fanatics? Just that simply these few queries would uncover the truth that needed the light of day. The next question would probably be "And doesn't your secretary live on this same Georgetown spot?" I am sure at this point the candidate would be a shambles and there would be no more lying about who had struck the self-incriminating pose in the picture. Then would come that awful question I had asked; "WHY ARE YOU HIDING YOUR FACE IN THE PICTURE?"

But the press never asked Senator John Kennedy these questions. If it had, he would not be the President of the United States today.

Toward the end of the presidential campaign the press once more tried to harm Richard Nixon, on a personal level as usual; this time it had to do with family financial matters. Naturally this was picked up by Senator Kennedy over and over in his speeches as the "special interests" of his opponent. Now that the campaign is over no more is printed about this. However, just a few weeks ago the press managed to smudge Richard Nixon's name again. They can't break the habit--or won't break it.

Your new found friend, David Lawrence, publisher of "U. S. News & World Report, to which we had subscribed for many, many years, printed on November 21, 1960 that "The President-Elect is not a playboy." On November 28, 1960 David Lawrence felt it necessary to print that the rumor that Kennedy was a playboy could not possibly be true because Kennedy for four years had been in the thick of a political campaign and was accompanied day and night by newspapermen and staff. Well the times I saw Senator Kennedy tomcatting around Georgetown he was alone. The Report busily went out of its way to lie, twice in eight days, to its subscribers. We cancelled our subscription and wrote David Lawrence why. He never replied.

I have learned far too much about the corruption of the press since 1958. Then I had the simpleminded notion that a man running for the Presidency of the United States was a public figure, should try to live up to his campaign literature and press publicity; and owed it to me to behave himself in a respectable manner in public; especially since I was being enjoined by pulpit and press to study each candidate making my fateful decision in the voting booth.

During the very month (June 1958) when Senator Kennedy was cavorting 'neath my kitchen window my subscription copy of "Newsweek" had this to say about him in my living room;

"He has an intangible, an indefinable charm, a warmth which makes others feel instinctively that whatever they believe in, he believes in too. Mr. Kennedy is the clean-cut, smiling American boy, trustworthy, brave, reverent, boldly facing up the challenge of the atomic age."

Right after that I sent a sensible, individually typed letter to about fifty prominent people mostly journalists, asking only their opinion of Senator Kennedy's checking into my husband's sensitive job and planning to deprive him of it to settle a personal score. In the letter I explained that my husband is a high school graduate, over forty; is a salesman, sells paper forms to several government agencies, and has been with his company for over twelve years. I received not one reply. I called the well-known May Craig on the phone on a Saturday afternoon and asked her if she had received my letter and what she thought; she was cross with me and curtly told me she would have to hang up as she was expecting guests.

Next month when they give out the Oscars, old rocking-chair John Kennedy, unfortunately the President of the United States, should get the best actor prize. He maintains his girlfriend-mistress, Pamela Turnure, in the White House itself yet all the while uses a great deal of his time and energy play acting like a respectable family man. Next month when they give out the Oscars, old rocking-chair John Kennedy unfortunately the President of the United States, should get the best actor prize. He maintains his girlfriend-mistress Pamela Turnure, in the White House itself yet all the while uses a great deal of his time and energy play acting like a respectable family man. My husband tells me that only a really depraved and naturally nasty man "takes his paramour home" and has her associate with his family. The American people would react in anger and disgust if they knew about President Kennedy's Faroukish immorality in the White House but the truth is kept from them by a corrupt press.

The best actress award should go to Mrs. John Kennedy for knowing about her press secretary's affair with her husband but pretending, unlike any other American woman I have ever known, that it is normal and all right.

The best supporting actress Oscar should go to Pamela Turnure, press secretary to Mrs. John F. Kennedy. However, of late, Miss Turnure has been rather insupportable. She has been saying that no one should address President Kennedy at social functions but wait until he speaks to them; then they should discreetly melt away into the background. I cannot help but think Miss Turnure has come to see John Kennedy as a sort of latterday Louis XV and herself a Pompadour. In any event these days Miss Turnure is very busy playing a double role. All over the world a boudoir influence on the throne is feared and hated for the danger and harm implicit in it.

The top prize for scriptwriting should go to the American press. Every day they get out tons of lies whitewashing the above mentioned immoral people. The press pelts the citizens insensate with the large and the medium and the small about each and every Kennedy who exists or ever did exist but never does it inform them that their President maintains his mistress in the White House. To my knowledge the press knows all about it and has for years. I think it amuses their hard-boiled, cynical and opportunistic natures to fool the public; especially, I think, they like to make jackasses of American women.

PICKETING DEMONSTRATION

During the last three weeks of the presidential campaign I walked in front of the White House with my sign. Dozens of press and magazine photographers recorded the event but they all gave me the silent treatment in the press. But not the passers-by; mostly the same people every day. Many of them cursed me and dozens of them yelled for me to go back to the nuthouse. It was only after I had walked three days in front of the White House that some friends told me that The Washington Star, mostly in the person of Mr. Charles Alexander, an assistant editor, was telling those who phoned in about me that the Police Had Recently Had Me Committed to St. Elizabeth's, a local insane asylum. I have never been within a mile of the place. After consulting my lawyer, the wonderful Myron Ehrlich, I phoned Mr. Benjamin McKelway, editor of The Washington Star, to put a stop to this immediately. I have a tape recording of this conversation. The Washington Post in the person of a Mr. Parker on the city desk, told people the Post had checked out the whole story and it was a hoax and the picture a fake. I had to ask them to stop saying this since they had not checked out the story or the picture with me. From then on, but the harm done, both these papers told anyone who called about me and my sign that they had no comments to make on the matter; adding snidely, "Form your own conclusions." The Washington Daily News, purportedly strongly for Nixon told people I must have hired a college boy to pose for the picture on my placard; that Senator Kennedy would never wear those teen-age white socks and mocs. So I had to hurriedly tack onto my placard that I would give my $10,000 "Renoir" painting to anyone who could prove the picture was not that of Senator John Kennedy or was in any way faked or retouched. My lawyer held my lovely painting. There were no takers. The offer is still good.

But my effort to tell American people what they were entitled to know about Senator John Kennedy was not a complete failure. My husband says he will love and respect me for it when I'm a creaky, wrinkled and very old lady.

CONSERVATIVE CATHOLICS SHOCKED BY POPE'S STAND

A NEW IMAGE OF CHRIST

conservative Catholics shocked by Pope's appeasement of communists

Conservative Catholic circles in America are at a loss as to what action can or should be taken to stop the steadily weakening of the Catholic Church's stand on Communism. The disturbing trends are listed below.

(1) The deleting of the term "Perfidious Jew" in prayers. The changing of the true story that Jews crucified Christ to that of "The Roman soldiers crucified Christ" thus bowing to the demands by powerful Jewish agencies that the 'heat' be taken off the Jew.

(2) The inviting of representatives of the pro-Communist World Council of Churches to the Catholic international convocation. Also inviting of so-called Russian Orthodox Church officials who were appointed or approved by the Russian Communist Party

(and are thus Communist agents out to destroy true Christianity.)

(3) The Pope's recent dinner with Khrushchev's half-Jewish daughter and her husband (the Atheist editor of "Izvestia"). And their talks on how Church and state can co-exist in these times. Thus complete abandonment of Catholics behind the Iron Curtain who long to be free of Communist slavery.

(4) Worst of all was the recent Encyclical of April 10th, which called for World disarmament, a United Nations World Police Force to enforce peace (slavery) on the world, and end discrimination (whereby we discriminate between what is good and bad for our children). This speech was hailed by dictator Khrushchev on April 22 as expressing his own views. (U.S. Communist Party leader Gus Hall announces his approval--note reprint on this page from the Daily Worker.

(5) The recent approval of the new Socialist government for Italy with the Pope calling for more Socialism (which has brought much criticism from within the Catholic Church itself.)

The present Pope is very old, senile and ill. The best we can say for the man is that he does not know what he is doing. The Catholic Church is the largest, most powerful Church in the World. The Pope actually has but months to live according to the best informed sources--the selection of the next Pope could undue all this and will be watched by all the Anti-Communists peoples of the world.

BLACK CHRIST?

Ever since underground revolutionists in South Africa started painting the slogan "God is Black" Negroes have been trying to find (or manufacture) evidence proving such. Now comes the Baltimore Afro-American with the picture of Christ on this page. They say that this is what Christ actually looked like. Ancient scrolls have been found stating that Jesus Christ was fair haired and ruddy complexioned and that he was a Galilean, (Galilee of the Gentiles) NOT A JEW! NOR A NEGRO!

Gus Hall Greet's Pope's Message as Aid to World Peace

By DANIEL MASON

STRESSING the point that Pope John XXVIII, when making public his encyclical for peace on April 10, had called for every human being to make his own contribution toward world peace, Gus Hall last Tuesday urged President Kennedy and Congress to reexamine and abandon the foreign and internal policies which are pushing the nation dangerously toward the brink of destruction of democracy internally and of world war.

In an interview with the Worker last Tuesday, Hall, leading spokesman of the Communist viewpoint, made it clear that American Communists welcome Pope John's encyclical, entitled "Peace on Earth," as a positive contribution to the struggle for peace and the fulfillment of humanity's hopes and aspirations. He saw the encyclical as a direct rebuff to the ultra-rights and other warmongers.

PLEA FOR UNITY

Hall saw the encyclical as a plea for the more than 500 million Catholics throughout the world to join with their fellow-Christians, with those of other religious faiths and with those professing no religion to achieve disarmament, nuclear test bans, peace, and an end to colonialism and racism, and a halt to exploitation of man by man.

He stressed the point made by the encyclical about the need for Catholics and other religionists to work for the achievement of human goals with political movements and societies, whose theories the Catholic church may consider false.

He asserted that the Pope made it obvious in the part of the encyclical entitled "Relations between Catholics and Non-Catholics in Social and Economic Struggle" that their principles and tactics will undoubtedly seek to defeat its objectives.

recognition by the leadership of the Roman Catholic church that the world wide Communist movement sincerely represented and fought for the aspirations of mankind.

He wryly commented that it would be nice if the Kennedy administration, Congress, union leaders and others now engaged in red-baiting would at long last come to a similar recognition of the sincerity of Communists.

He emphasized that American Communists would welcome the opportunity to work with Catholics and all other Americans in the communities, at the polls, in the unions and all people's organizations for peace, democracy and economic security. He made it clear that American Communists would do everything in their power to create the conditions for forging a national front to secure these ends.

Returning to the point concerning the need for the Kennedy administration to examine its present foreign and domestic policies in the light of the encyclical, Hall declared that the Pope had expressed in most eloquent terms the longing of all humanity for a halt to nuclear weapons testing, disarmament and peaceful coexistence.

Hall said that the encyclical was a challenge to the Kennedy administration. He quoted the encyclical:

"...People live in constant fear

lest the storm that every moment threatens should break upon them with dreadful violence. And with good reason, for the arms of war are ready at hand....

"All must realize that there is no hope of putting an end to the building up of armaments, nor of reducing the present stocks, nor, still less, of abolishing them altogether, unless the process is complete and thorough and unless it proceeds from inner convictions; unless, that is, everyone sincerely cooperates to banish the fear and anxious expectation of war with which men are oppressed. If this is to come about, the fundamental principle on which our present peace depends must be replaced by another, which declares that the true and solid peace of nations consists not in the equality of arms, but in mutual trust alone."

Hall declared that this is the core of the present situation and that the Kennedy administration must be made to see that.

He then turned to another section of the encyclical, underscoring the point that it lays much emphasis on "the right of assembly and association" and the "right to take an active part in public affairs."

Peace Marchers

Affairs" that he was referring to cooperation to achieve peace with the socialist world headed by the Soviet Union and with Communists and Socialists everywhere.

He pointed to the sentence which reads:

"Besides, who can deny that those movements, in so far as they conform to the dictates of right reason and are interpreters of the lawful aspirations of the human person, contain elements that are positive and deserving of approval?"

Hall declared that this indicated a "orthright, if belated,

He asserted that this should cause all Americans to re-examine the whole question of the infamous thought-control McCarran Act. Particularly, he added, the Kennedy administration should halt all prosecutions undertaken under provisions of that law and move for repeal of that monstrous defilement of the Bill of Rights.

As to the encyclical as a whole, Hall declared that "it is a sincere effort to bring the position of the Roman Catholic church marked a fundamental change from espousal of policies that gave sustenance to the Franco regime in Spain, the despotic rule of Salazar in Portugal and many other fascist and anti-democratic regimes everywhere.

"There is a need," he continued, "for all forces of progress to reexamine and perhaps readjust our overall estimate of the Roman Catholic church as a social institution. This has been necessary regarding large sections of the clergy for some time. One must have a balanced view of the church in this new epoch in the struggle for world peace and the achievement of mankind's most basic aspirations."

In ending his interview, Hall warned that there will be massive attempts both within the Catholic church and outside to water down, distort and nullify the meaning of the encyclical.

"To give the encyclical life, it will be necessary for all forward-looking forces to carry on a continuous struggle everywhere," Hall stressed into harmony with the progressive direction of history. It is a historic effort to create harmony of the humanitarian-theological premise of the Roman Catholic church and its activities in the practical political and economic struggles of people for a better life on this earth.

"The fundamental changes taking place in the relationship of class and social forces in this present epoch of history are necessarily reflected in the position taken by all institutions—and the Catholic church is no exception. Social and class institutions will either reflect the new relationship of forces or disappear from the stage of history."

INTERVIEWS FROM "USSR" OFFICIAL SOVIET MAGAZINE

HOW JEWS LIVE IN RUSSIA

Yehuda-Leib Levin
Chief Rabbi
Moscow

You asked me how we live. No one in my congregation, thank the Lord, complains that he does not have enough to live on. The services in our synagogue are attended mostly by the old people. Some are on pension, some are supported by their children and those who are younger work.

Our Central Moscow Synagogue holds regular services weekdays and holidays.

On weekdays about 500 people come to the synagogue, and on holidays there are twice and sometimes three times as many. We also have two Jewish prayer houses in Moscow, one in Maryina Roshcha and other in Cherkizovo, and a synagogue in the suburban village of Malakhovka.

There are 26 synagogues all told in the Soviet Union.

My community published a prayer book, and we put out a religious calendar every year. Last fall our congregations were supplied with calendars long before Rosh Hashana, our New Year.

Ichil Falikman
Writer
Kiev

The theme of my novel The Doomed Take Up Arms is the unequal struggle of the people in the ghetto against the Nazis. The book was published in Moscow and Kiev in Yiddish, Russian and Ukrainian. I have just completed several new chapters for this novel in which I describe the part Adolf Eichmann played in the mass extermination of the Polish Jews. I frequently contribute short stories to the magazine Sovetish Heimland.

I am now working on a new novel called The Sentence Is Carried Out. The central idea is that we must do away with fascism once and for all if we are to have permanent peace.

All the Jewish writers I know are busy working. In a period of only 18 months Sovetish Heimland published 278 works by more than 100 Jewish writers living in different parts of the country. Many of the Jewish writers are translated into the Russian, Ukrainian, Byelorussian and other languages spoken in the Soviet Union. In the past seven years Soviet publishing houses put out 12 million copies of 187 different books by Jewish writers.

So far as money is concerned, Soviet writers are very well paid and have excellent working and living conditions.

David Dragunsky
Lieutenant General
Twice Hero of the Soviet Union

Abram Dragunsky, my father, was a hereditary tailor in the small village of Svyatsk, Bryansk Region. You can learn how we lived by reading the works of Sholom Aleichem, which give a vivid enough description of the impoverished Jews of the time. My parents did not always have enough food for the children. My brothers and sisters began working as tailors when they were very young. I was the youngest in the family and also the luckiest. The Revolution took place when I was seven. I went to school, then worked as a house builder in Moscow. I have been serving in the Soviet Army for 30 years now.

My job, like that of all other Soviet generals and officers, is to defend the country. Had fascism won, the Jewish nation would have been wiped off the face of the earth. Fortunately that did not happen. The Soviet Army saved the Jewish people from extermination. Everyone recognizes what a great contribution the Soviet Armed Forces made to save the peoples of France, Belgium, Poland and other European states from fascist enslavement.

We must have a peaceful world. We must do everything we can not to let the past repeat itself.

Moshe Kaplan
Prosecutor
Vilnius

After the war I graduated from the law school at Vilnius State University. At first I held only a small post at the local prosecutor's office. In our profession, as in all others, you need experience in addition to knowledge to know how to get at the truth. I acquired this experience on the job, learning from my older colleagues. For several years I served as an investigation department prosecutor and was recently appointed chief of a department for civil cases.

My wife Suzanna is an engineer. My two sons are at school. My wife's parents, both pensioners, live with us. We're a devoted family.

There are a good many Jewish lawyers in Vilnius, Kaunas and other Lithuanian towns.

Among my colleagues in the office of the Prosecutor of the Republic are Boris Shklyar and Samuel Kuklyansky. Mikhail Farber is prosecutor of Lenin'sky District in Vilnius.

Boris Lifshitz
Shop Director
Riga

As a young man I studied the violin, but I did not become a musician. My father died early, and I had to earn a living. It was hard to find a job in capitalist Latvia.

You can judge for yourself how I live now. I have a good and interesting job. When the first shop for concentrated foods was being built in Riga after the war, the Latvian Ministry of Trade asked me to manage it. I was in charge of the construction work, the decoration of the show windows and the organization of the food tasting department. We have a large enough variety of goods to please the most exacting customer.

We have had guests in from different countries. They liked our shop and our tasting department where customers can order a lunch of any of the food concentrates we sell.

I saw action at the front during the war. The government honored me with the Order of the Red Star and a medal. My brothers—Abram, who works as a weaver at a textile mill, and Aron, chief engineer at the Record Textile Mill—also saw action against the Nazis.

Moscow

I am a fourth-year student at the Moscow Polygraphic Institute. I will be an engineer when I graduate. My father is also an engineer; he works in the USSR Ministry of Communications.

Although my family is fairly well to do, I do not have to pay my way through college and I get a stipend besides.

My class might well be called international—we have Russians, Ukrainians, Jews, Armenians, Kirghiz, Kazakhs and one Avarian. In all my four years at college I have not heard of a single argument or dispute that had anything to do with national differences.

There are many Jews studying at my college, but I do not know how many exactly. There are Jewish students in every department. I have never heard of any restrictions imposed in our country on people of a particular nationality. The only requirement is that the student pass the entrance exam. National origin plays no part.

Ilya Strashun
of Medical Sciences

I am 71 now. My parents could hardly have hoped that their son would become a scientist. Even though I did well at school and everyone said I was a gifted boy, as a Jew I came up against an insurmountable obstacle—the quota set by the czarist government sharply restricting the number of Jewish students in schools and colleges. It was only through the most determined efforts that I managed to get into and graduate from the school of medicine of Moscow University. And the most I could expect was to work only in certain hospitals. My parents were once ordered to leave Moscow. In those days Jews did not have a right to live in every part of the country, they had to live in restricted areas.

I became a scientist only in Soviet times, when the road to science was opened to all people, regardless of their nationality.

I have published more than 200 papers on social hygiene, the history of medicine and natural science. I am now working on a two-volume History of the Russian Public Health Service. The first volume is ready for the press. The second will probably take two years. I hope after that to have time to do a book on the history of Soviet medicine.

I am not a young man, and in the time I have left I want to do as much as possible for humanity and for my country.

There is crystal clear truth in this verse by Max Riant, a poet from our parts. Waldheim is now a big modern village which is getting more prosperous every year, as is our whole Jewish Autonomous Region.

Last year I was elected deputy to the Supreme Soviet. I was nominated by the collective farmers of Waldheim.

floor, a large poster was displayed urging shipment of food and clothing packages to Russia through "Parcels to Russia Inc." with "duty prepaid" and "licensed by the USSR."

Several thousand circulars containing excerpts from the New York Times' "Letters to the Editor" column were piled high in the office.

These letters were written by Professor Albert Einstein and Dr. Harold C. Urey, Nobel Prize winner, in support of the court appeals of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, convicted atom spies who were executed in June, 1953.

A footnote stated that the circulars were issued by the "National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case."

PILE OF PAMPHLETS

Piles of pamphlets extolling the Rosenberg cause were also scattered on desks. One was entitled, "The Cold-War Murder, The Frame-Up Against Ethel and Julius Rosenberg."

A song book containing "15 Red Army Songs" lay along-side a pamphlet bearing a speech on "A Palestine Solution" by Andrei Gromyko.

Literature, convention caps and applications blanks concerning the International Workers Order were in evidence. Sherman described the IWO as a Communist organization.

Literature on labor and racial issues were in abundance. Pictures of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Abraham Lincoln adorned the office walls and in one corner, a small, shabbily-kept, soot-blackened American flag was cast.

CHAIRS FOR MEETING
Across the hall from the main office was the Center's assembly room with some 24 chairs all neatly arranged in "meeting" order.

In one corner was an upright player piano with a steel name plate riveted on the front panel. It read:

"Donated by Comrade David Weiner."

Weiner, Sherman said, was a Communist and former union leader.

On a long speaker's table in the front of the room were a number of books dealing with Russian life.

One was the "New Work Review—35 Years of Soviet Progress." Another was "A Pageant of Youth," published in Leningrad and containing a pictorial account of the athletic prowess of Russian youth.

SONG SHEETS FOUND
Mimeographed song sheets were also on the table. One of the songs was "Zhankoye," the "Soviet-Yiddish Collective Farm Song—Crimea."

75 RABBIS SIGN APPEAL TO ABOLISH HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE

IN A FULL page advertisement in the New York Times on Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22, 610 public figures and organizational leaders, educators, writers and artists, business and professional notables and religious leaders signed a statement calling on the House of Representatives to abolish its Un-American Activities Committee because it threatens both our democracy and our national security. Clarence E. Pickett, a leader in the Society of Friends (Quakers), headed the Ad Hoc Committee, 160 N. 15 St., Phila. 2, Pa., that gathered the signatures. Those who agreed were urged to write their Congressmen. Jewish signatories were about one quarter of the total. RAIDERS... Attorney Samuel Sherman and Court Investigator Michael Stabile (behind him, on steps)

RAID REVEALS RED NEST

By Dave Welty

The staid and impressive gray stoned manse which, for the past nine years, has housed the Jewish Cultural Center in the heart of Squirrel Hill's exclusive residential district, has been in reality a training school and headquarters for district Communists.

In a hard-hitting attack on the Center, located at 6328 Forbes St., Attorney Harry Alan Sherman today unmasked it as a school for young Communists and an official meeting place of Communist functionaries.

Sherman said that a Senate investigating committee already has heard testimony that a district Communist taught Red "strong-arm brigades" how to make bombs and hand grenades in the basement of the Center.

Sherman's revelations came fast on the heels of an announcement yesterday by the United States Justice Department that the Center's parent organization--the Jewish Cultural Society--had been branded subversive.

In a surprise move last April 7, Sherman uncovered a huge cache of subversive literature in the two and one half story house.

TRUE PURPOSE SEEN
Sherman, chairman of the Americans Battling Communism here, said his investigation indicated that Cvetic's testimony spotlighted the true purpose of the Center.

Evidence gleaned from his investigation, Sherman said, indicated that the Jewish Cultural Center has been the "real headquarters for Communism's seditious and treasonous activities in the Western Pennsylvania area."

Children's textbooks, written in Hebrew, were found in the well-stocked bookcases of the Center. This, Sherman said, indicated that the Center was being used as a Communist "Cheder."

A "Cheder," he explained, is a Hebrew school, in which Jewish students learned to read and write Hebrew and is conducted after regular daily school classes.

BEST INVESTMENT
He said the Jewish Cultural Society--of which the Center is an off-shoot--represents the best and biggest investment that the Communists have in this country. He asserted:

"To disguise its sinister activities, the society has veiled itself in the holy and sacred traditions of the Jewish religion, for it has found over the years that the most potent shield Communism can use is religion."

CARETAKER LEAVES
A woman caretaker was the only person on the premises when the investigators arrived. She left hurriedly while the search was in progress.

Several packed cartons of clothes in the Center led Sherman to surmise that other persons may have intended to vacate in a hurry.

In the main office, on the first in the house proved of little value. However, Sherman said today, Joseph D. Mazzei, another former FBI undercover man, testified at a Senate hearing June 18, that Louis Bortz, described as the Communist's "tough guy and goon squad organizer," used the basement for "target practice" and instructed his "class" and handling and manufacturing of hand grenades and bombs.

Bortz, Sherman said, refused to answer queries by the investigators on this part of Mazzei's testimony on the grounds that anything he said might tend to incriminate him.

It was at this same place that Mazzei related that he heard Bortz boast that party leaders had selected him to "liquidate" Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R).

On the second floor Sherman and his party found a library and several reading rooms.

DOLSEN BRIEF CASE
A large majority of the books Sherman said, were published by the Jewish Peoples Fraternal Order, listed by the Un-American Activities Committee and the U.S. Court as subversive.

In the library, Sherman found a brief case, which he said apparently belonged to James Dolson, the Daily Worker correspondent here who currently is on trial in Federal Court along with four other district Communist leaders on charges of advocating the overthrow of the U. S. government.

A Feb. 25, copy of the Daily Worker, Communist-inspired pamphlet and local newspaper clippings and editorials were found in the brief case.

The newspaper clippings pertained to the seditious trials of Dolson and his companions and several items referred to Cvetic.

Also in the case was a memorandum addressed to the editorial staff of the Daily Worker in New York City pointing out "misstatements" which apparently were contained in the Feb. 25 and 26 issues of the Communist organ.

It was signed by the "Defense Committee of the Pittsburgh 6," which was also cited by the Justice Department yesterday as a subversive group.

DILEMMA DECRIED

Literature decrying the dilemma of the "Pittsburgh 6" could be found in almost every room of the Center.

A booklet, "The Right to Speak for Peace," contained 22 pages of comment of three of the "6," Dolson, Steven Nelson, Communist boss here, and Andrew Onda, district party organizer.

The remaining members of the sextet, Benjamin Carreathers, a party leader; William Albertson, Nelson's predecessor here and now boss in Detroit; and Irving Wissman, West Virginia Communist leader, also were mentioned frequently in pamphlets found in the Center.

Nearly a score of colorful Russian-style art posters were found in one of the second floor reading rooms. Sherman said these apparently were used as exhibits in the Communist classes held there.

The attic rooms were made up for living quarters and Sherman said he understands that several top party leaders are living there now.

Who Sold Out B'ham

The battle for the heart and soul of Birmingham, Alabama will go on for a long time to come. Much has been witnessed during the past few days. Who is the enemy here locally? City officials under Mayor Art Hayes and Bull Connor held out, so did Governor Wallace. The sell out came from the local Jew dominated Chamber of Commerce. Secretly they formed a committee of mediation with all their names concealed from the public. The great problem is that the local Jewish merchants and chain store interests such as Woolworths and Kresses are begging for a way to sell out. They all want to surrender at the same time so that none can have an upper hand claiming that their store still maintains segregation. As of today the Negroes have maintained an almost total boycott of downtown merchants. White lady shoppers have deserted the downtown section for fear of being mobbed by wild gangs of black savages roaming the streets in shouting, singing groups.

The only way that Segregation can be maintained is for the merchants to be even more fearful of the Whites. The White people are the major purchasers, especially of major appliances and higher priced goods. To lose the White trade would be even more disastrous than losing the black customer. (Negroes make up 45% of Birmingham's population.) White people in the South must inform local merchants that if they favor race-mixing and if they are found to be on any of these bi-racial mediation committees to surrender our Southern traditions and heritages -- WE WILL BOYCOTT THEM TO THE LIMIT AND DRIVE THEM OUT OF OUR COMMUNITY.

"The Birmingham News" owned by Samuel Isadore Newhouse of New York City has a writer named Bud Gordon who is an expert hatchet smear artist. On March 27, he wrote an article on the NSRP picketing of the Arthur Dean talk in Tuscaloosa, Ala. He stated that the NSRP men were wearing "Black Leather jackets" (a sign of street hoodlums) black boots and swastika arm bands. Our men wore Thunderbolt arm bands, a symbol well known here to the press as representing the Whiteman's States Rights Movement. Bud Gordon knew better, but he hates the NSRP so badly that he would not hesitate to openly lie about us if he thought it would confuse the people and turn them against NSRP. We quickly countered by threatening legal action if proper correction was not immediately made. The next day, the article reproduced here appeared in "The Birmingham News."

TEXAS NSRP PICKETS LBJ

On Tuesday morning, April 23, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson arrived at Live Field (Dallas, Texas, airport.) It was supposed to be a secret at what time he was to arrive. But astute NSRP Leader, Jimmy Robinson found out that 9 A.M. was the time. Robinson prepared a large sign which read "REMEMBER OLE MISS," "L.B.J. IS A TRAITOR TO WHITE CHRISTIANS IN TEXAS AND SOUTH", on the reverse side it read, "ALL THE WAY TO HADES WITH L.B.J. --GOD WAS THE 1ST SEGREGATIONIST." When the official political big shots arrived, they were quite shocked to see Jim Robinson right out in the open holding his sign for all to read. One big shot pleaded with Robinson to leave and not upset the reception committee. Robinson steadfastly refused. Later when the Big Jet finally arrived, Robinson started out with the official committee, then a policeman stepped in and ordered Robinson to stand 50 feet away from Johnson. When L.B.J. got off the plane, he had with him 2 whites and 3 negroes. They all just stood in disbelief, staring at Jim Robinson's sign. T.V. pictures were taken, but carefully avoided showing Mr. Robinson and "The Sign." Regardless of the lack of publicity in this demonstration, much credit goes to NSRP Leader Jim Robinson who upheld the Whiteman's protest. All over America the Whiteman is growing tired of sell-out politicians, their day is near at end.

Missouri NSRP marches to Capitol

On April 17 Dr. Edward R. Fields spoke before a very enthusiastic audience in St. Louis, Mo. Reports were given on the Missouri Unit delegation which marched on the State Capitol in protest against a so-called Open Occupancy Bill which would force all landlords to rent to Negroes. State Chairman, Alan O. Kern spoke for the NSRP delegation. He detailed the horrors of integrated life in St. Louis. He urged every White Mo., representative to stand with their White brothers and not be intimidated by the black block vote. NSRP leaflets against this bill were later distributed throughout the State Capitol. Congratulations to Mr. Kern for demanding, publicly that White Rights be preserved. We need more local Unit action before State Legislative bodies.

During the past months the NSRP has had four well publicized demonstrations here in Alabama. First was the picketing of Bobby Kennedy in Montgomery. News article on that case is on this page. Secondly, we drove cars through Birmingham flying giant Confederate flags to rally our people and wave defiance in the faces of our enemy. James K. An effigy of Martin Luther King hanging by the neck was displayed in front of our office building (which is located on Bessemer Road--the widest and busiest street in Birmingham.) The un-lawful Negroes still had Kennedy and his type of "law of the land" (outlaws) behind them. But, White Rebels were fighting back. King, Kennedy and their rule by mob tyrants still faced the uncertainty of just how far to push the Whites. Or how to stop the Whites once they had decided they had taken enough.

On April 15, Dr. Edward R. Fields met with Chicago leaders of the NSRP. After a very productive working conference the following new officers were named: Mr. Walter Denman, Chairman; Charles Layman, Secy.-Treas.; Robert L. Taylor, Youth Leader and Mr. Murray, Sargent at Arms. We want to congratulate all these new officers and ask all NSRP supporters in the Chicago area to give these men their full backing.

What if whites had rioted the way Negroes have

For the last four weeks thousands of Negroes have been marching through the streets of Birmingham. They have stoned policemen and firemen. They have attacked law officers with knives and broken bottles. They have run berserk through the streets after they loaded all available jails with thousands of prisoners. What if we held daily meetings advocating riot and disorder, plus outright defiance of state laws. There can be no doubt that White People would find themselves under arrest by federal forces and charged with insurrection treason and what have you. Kennedy has publicly backed Martin Luther King and his gang of outlaws and threatened the peaceful city of Birmingham with invasion by Federal troops if we mistreat these so-called non-violent demonstrators. Newspapers have played down the fact that many Whites have been injured during these demonstrations. Tuesday, May 7, eight were hurt, one White policeman was knocked down by Negroes who stomped on his chest until they broke all his ribs and crushed one lung. Several have been knifed and one shot. All this is termed as peaceful non-violent demonstrating. Why is the racial situation deteriorating in all major cities. Why have Black mobs taken over the streets. First the President is so worried about Goldwater and Rockefeller receiving the Negro vote in 1964, that he would

Parade Ordinance Challenged

FROM PRESS REPORTS MONTGOMERY, May 1--An Atlanta attorney attacked a parade permit ordinance as unconstitutional at today's hearing in city court on the 17 demonstrators arrested last week at the state capitol.

The demonstration was in protest of a visit by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Judge Eugene Low overruled Atty. Jesse B. Stoner's motion the city ordinance violated the 1st and 14th amendments to the U. S. Constitution and found 16 defendants guilty. The charge against the 17th was dismissed.

10 Appeal Three Birmingham men were fined $50 and costs. The others received fines of $25 and costs.

Appeal bonds were immediately posted for 10 of the defendants, including the Birmingham trio who were represented by Stoner. Six others paid the $25 fines. The $100 appeal bonds were made by retired Adm. John G. Crommelin and G. E. Harris.

The 17 segregationist demonstrators were arrested at the capitol April 25 by city police after refusing to break up their picket line protesting the conference between Gov. George C. Wallace and Kennedy.

Called Unconstitutional The Atlanta attorney charged the city ordinance was "unconstitutional on its face and application."

Dave Crosland, city prosecuting attorney, countered the cases were "purely charges of parading without a permit."

Kennedy never saw the pickets who were arrested minutes before his hour and 20 minute talk with Wallace, mainly on racial and political matters.

Fined $50 each plus court costs and free on $100 appeal bonds were Jerry Dutton, 21; James Warner, 25, and James O Murray, 19, all of Birmingham.

Appealers Listed Appealing fines of $25 each plus costs were C. B. Wager, 73, and Paul M. Hudgins, 26, both of Prattville; H. N. Bailey, 36; R. L. Moncrief, 25, and John W. Moncrief, 21, all of Montgomery; B. C. England, 34, of Deatsville, and H. L. Howard, 41, of Elmore County.

The recorder's court clerk's office said the following men paid $25 fines and costs: William Blasingame, 26; Ddis D. Carver, 32; Floyd Culpepper, 20, and Curtis R. Culpepper, 26, all of Montgomery; Oscar W. Bazzell, 28, and Paul E. Mims, 22, both of Prattville.

On the recommendation of city prosecutor, Howard Hudson, 40, of Montgomery was not prosecuted.

All Released; Crommelin Said Maker Of Bonds

By DAVE CHESNUTT And GILLIS MORGAN Journal Staff Writers

Seventeen segregationist demonstrators were arrested at the state Capitol by city police today after refusing to break up their picket line protesting the conference between Gov. George C. Wallace and Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy.

The arrests were made minutes before Kennedy arrived at the Capitol.

Asst. Police Chief D. H. Lackey, director of local officers at the scene, said the men were charged with parading without a permit.

MOST PEACEFUL All but two of the pickets went peacefully with the police. The last two scuffled with police and one of them went into the police paddy wagon upside down as five policemen forced him into the vehicle.

The signs carried by the pickets carried such slogans as "Mississippi Murderer"; Kennedy, Kosh and Khrushchev; and Wash.-D.C., A Disgrace to the White People.

Some of the demonstrators carried signs identifying themselves with the national States Rights Party.

One of the signs read: "Alabama will resist with Vigah."

One of the two demonstrators who had to be forced into the paddy wagon by police was identified as James Warner, 25, of 1865 Bessemer Rd., Birmingham.

Highway patrolmen, med capitol guards and plain clothes state investigators were stationed both inside and outside the capitol awaiting the attorney general.

All 17 men arrested today for parading without a license have been released after making bond, acting Police Chief Marvin Stanley said.

It was learned that Adm. John G. Crommelin made bond for all 17.

CHAPTER 14

Who was thinking, between 1896 and 1905, of the new "no annexations" rule to be applied to war? Were you? Do you know of any statesman who was? We know that military men were concerned about the appliances and operations of any future war that might occur. We know that statesmen, of the more responsible sort, were working to consolidate a balance of interests that would make war extremely improbable. Who had outdistanced them all in foresight and planning sufficiently to lay down a definite program of "no annexations?"

Fortunately the clue to the answer is supplied to us by unquestionable Jewish sources. The AMERICAN JEWISH NEWS, of September 19, 1919, had an advertisement on its front page which read thus:

"When Prophets Speak by Litman Rosenthal, Many years ago Nordau prophesied the Balfour Declaration. Litman Rosenthal, his intimate friend, relates this incident in a fascinating memoir."

The article, on page 464, begins: "It was on Saturday, the day after the closing of the Sixth Congress, when I received a telephone message from Dr. Herzl asking me to call on him."

This fixes the time. The Sixth Zionist Congress was held at Basle in August, 1903.

The memoir continues: "On entering the lobby of the hotel I met Herzl's mother who welcomed me with her usual gracious friendliness, and asked me whether the feelings of the Russian Zionists were now calmer."

"Why just the Russian Zionists, Frau Herzl?" I asked. "Why do you only inquire about these?"

"Because my son," she explained, "is mostly interested in the Russian Zionists. He considers them the quintessence, the most vital part of the Jewish people."

At this Sixth Congress the British Government ("Herzl and his agents had kept in contact with the English Government"—Jewish Encyclopedia, Vol. 12, page 678) had offered the Jews a colony in Uganda, East Africa. Herzl was in favor of taking it, not as a substitute for Palestine, but as a step toward it. It was this which formed the chief topic of conversation between Herzl and Litman Rosenthal in that Basle hotel. Herzl said to Rosenthal, as reported in this article: "There is a difference between the final aim and the ways we have to go to achieve this aim."

Suddenly Max Nordau, who seems at the conference held last month in London to have become Herzl's successor, entered the room, and the Rosenthal interview was ended.

Let the reader now follow attentively the important part of this Rosenthal story:—(the italics are ours) to France. On my way to Lyons I stopped in Paris and there I visited as usual, our Zionist friends. One of them told me that this very same evening Dr Nordau was scheduled to speak about the Sixth Congress, and I, naturally, interrupted my journey to be present at this meeting and to hear Dr. Nordau's report. When we reached the hall in the evening we found it filled to overflowing and all were waiting impatiently for the great master, Nordau, who, on entering, received a tremendous ovation. But Nordau, without paying heed to the applause showered upon him, began his speech immediately, and said:

"You all came here with a question burning in your hearts and trembling on your lips, and the question is, indeed, a great one, and of vital importance. I am willing to answer it. What you want to ask is: How could I—I who was one of those who formulated the Basle program—how could I dare to speak in favor of the English proposition concerning Uganda, how could Herzl as well as I betray our ideal of Palestine, because you surely think that we have betrayed it and forgotten it. Yet listen to what I have to say to you. I spoke in favor of Uganda after long and careful consideration; deliberately I advised the Congress to consider and to accept the proposal of the English Government, a proposal made to the Jewish nation through the Zionist Congress, and my reasons—but instead of my reasons let me tell you a political story as a kind of allegory.

"I want to speak of time which is now almost forgotten, a time when the European powers had decided to send a fleet against the fortress of Sebastopol. At this time Italy, the United Kingdom of Italy, did not exist. Italy was in reality only a little principality of Sardinia, and the great free and united Italy was but a dream, a fervent wish, a far ideal of all Italian patriots. The leaders of Sardinia, who were fighting for and planning this free and united Italy, were the three great popular heroes: Garibaldi, Mazzini, and Cavour.

"The European powers invited Sardinia to join in the demonstration at Sebastopol and to send also a fleet to help in the siege of this fortress, and this proposal gave rise to a dissension among the leaders of Sardinia. Garibaldi and Mazzini did not want to send a fleet to the help of England and France and they said: 'Our program, the work to which we are pledged, is a free and united Italy. What have we to do with Sebastopol? Sebastopol is nothing to us, and we should concentrate all our energies on our original program so that we may realize our ideal as soon as possible.'

"But Cavour, who even at this time was the most prominent, the most able, and the most far-sighted statesman of Sardinia, insisted that his country should send a fleet and beleaguer with the other powers Sebastopol, and, at last, he carried his point. Perhaps it will interest you to know that the right hand of Cavour, his friend and adviser, was his secretary, Hartum, a Jew, and in those circles, which were in opposition to the government, one spokefulminantly of Jewish treason. And once at an assembly of Italian patriots one called wildly for Cavour's secretary, Hartum, and demanded of him to defend his dangerous and treasonable political actions. And this is what he said: 'Our dream, our fight, our ideal, and ideal for which we have paid already in blood and tears, in sorrow and despair, with the life of our sons and the anguish of our mothers, our one wish and one aim is a free and united Italy. All means are sacred if they lead to this great and glorious goal. Cavour knows full well that after the fight before Sebastopol sooner or later a peace conference will have to be held, and at this peace conference those powers will participate who have joined in the fight. True, Sardinia has no immediate concern, no direct interest at Sebastopol, but if we will help now with our fleet, we will sit at the future peace conference enjoying equal rights with the other power', and at this peace conference Cavour, as the representative of Sardinia, will proclaim the free and independent, untied Italy. Thus our dream for which we have suffered and died, will become, at last, a wonderful and happy reality. And if you now ask me again, what has Sardinia to do at Sebastopol, then let me tell you the following words, like the steps of a ladder: Cavour, Sardinia, the siege of Sebastopol, the future European peace conference, the proclamation of a free and united Italy."

"The whole assembly was under the spell of Nordau's beautiful, truly poetic and exalter diction, and his exquisite, musical French delighted the hearers with an almost sensual pleasure. For a few seconds the speaker paused, and the public, absolutely intoxicated by his splendid oratory, applauded frantically. But soon Nordau asked for silence and continued:

"Now this great progressive world power, England, has offered the pogroms of Kishineff, in token of her sympathy with our poor people, offered through the Zionist Congress the autonomous colony of Uganda to the Jewish nation. Of course, Uganda is in Africa, and Africa is not Zion and never will be Zion, to quote Herzl's own words. But Herzl knows full well that nothing is so valuable to the cause of Zionism as amicable political relations with such a power as England is, and so much more valuable as England's main interest is concentrated in the Orient. Nowhere else is precedent as powerful as in England, and so it is most important to accept a colony out of the hands of England and create thus a precedent in our favor. Sooner or later the Oriental question will have to be solved, and the Oriental question means, naturally, also the question of Palestine. England, who had addressed a formal, political note to the Zionist Congress—the Zionist Congress which is pledged to the Basle program, England will have the deciding voice in the final solution of the Oriental question, and Herzl has considered it his duty to maintain valuable relations with this great and progressive power. Herzl knows that we stand before a tremendous upheaval of the whole world. Soon, perhaps, some kind of a world-congress will have to be called, and England, the great, free and powerful England, will then continue the work it has begun with its generous offer to the Six Congress. And if you ask me now what has Israel to do in Uganda, then let me tell you as the answer the words of the statesmen of Sardinia, only applied to our case and given in our version; let me tell you the following words as if I were showing you the rungs of a

"THE INTERNATIONAL WHAT IS THE "INTERNATIONAL JEW?"

The International Jew was a series of articles on the Jew menace published by Mr. Henry Ford, founder of the Ford Motor Co. They were originally published in the official publication of the Ford Motor Co., called "The Dearborn Independent". They appeared first on May 22, 1920 and ended Oct. 2, 1920. Later Henry Ford reprinted them in book form (four volumes) and made them available in the automobile showroom of every Ford Dealer in America. You could not sell a Ford car unless you also offered copies of "The International Jew" for sale also. Henry Ford fought the powerful Jew machine which was after his business and today has found leftist Jew, Sidney Wienburg owning much influential stock in Ford Motor Co.

It will take "The Thunderbolt" almost two years to publish the entire Henry Ford series. No pressure will stop us. Read "The Thunderbolt" every month and you will never miss a single Chapter of "The International Jew".

Our newspaper is the only publication in the world where this rare information can be found. Henry Ford was one of the greatest Americans who ever lived. You need the vital information which he released to the world. The Jews have sought to suppress this, but it is our job to resurrect what the Jews would put assunder.

ladder leading upward and upward: Herzl, the Zionistic Congress, the English Uganda proposition, the future world war, the peace conference where with the help of England a free and Jewish Palestine will be created."

"Like a mighty thunder these last words came to us, and we all were trembling and awestruck as if we had seen a vision of old. And in my ears were sounding the words of our great brother Achad Haam, who said of Nordau's address at the First Congress:

"I felt that one of the great old prophets was speaking to us, that his voice came down from the free hills of Judea, and our hearts were burning in us when we heard his words, filled with wonder, wisdom and vision."

The amazing thing is that this article by Litman Rosenthal should ever have been permitted to see print. But it did not see print until the Balfour Declaration about Palestine, and it never would have seen print had not the Jews believed that one part of their program had been accomplished.

The Jew never betrays himself until he believes that what he seeks has been won, then he lets himself go. It was only to Jews that the 1903 "program of the Ladder"—the future world war—the peace conference—the Jewish program—was communicated. When the ascent of that ladder seemed to be complete, then came the public talk.

A similar illustration of this is to be found in the fall of the Czar. When that event transpired it was an occasion of great rejoicing in New York, and a Gentile of world-wide fame made a speech in which he lauded an American Jew of national reputation for having begun the downfall of the Czar by providing the money with which propaganda had been made among Russian prisoners in Japan during the Russo-Japanese war. The story came out only after the success of the plot. It is not at all out of keeping that the last men to see the last act of the plot carried out, the actual murder of Nicholas Romanovitch, his wife, his young daughters and his invalid boy, were "five Soviet deputies, the latter five all Jews." What began with the assistance of an American financier, finished with Soviet deputies.

Did International Jews in 1903 foresee the war? This Rosenthal confession is but one bit of evidence that they did. And did they do nothing but foresee it? It were well if the facts stopped at foresight and did not run on to provocation.

For the present the reader is invited to retain in his mind two points in this Rosenthal article: "Perhaps it will interest you to know that the right hand of Cavour, his friend and adviser, was his secretary, Hartum, a Jew." This is the way the Jewish press speaks of its own. If this paper, or a Chicago paper, or a New York paper should go through the list of the secretaries of the men of power in the world today and make the note after the names—"His secretary, a Jew," the Jewish Anti-Defamation Society would send letters of protest. There is one rule for the Gentile and one for the Jew, in the Jewish mind. Writing in the public prints about Hartum, he would be described as an "Italian."

Were the Jewish secretaries who abounded before the war, during the war and throughout the Peace Conference of less brilliance than Hartum? Were there not Hartums in England, France, Germany, yes and in Russia too (in the United States there were many) who saw the "program of the Ladder"? Did Max Nordau who saw it so clearly in 1903 forget it in 1914 and 1918?

We know this: the Jews in their Congress at Basle in 1903 foresaw "the future world war." How did they know it was to be a "world war"?

We know this also: the Protocols, perhaps as early as 1896, certainly not later than 1905, foresaw the policy of "no annexations."

The World War came to pass. "No annexations" came to pass. What was then future in the Jewish world program, is now past.

JEW BY HENRY FORD

Before proceeding to a more detailed study of the connection between the written program of the documents which are called "The Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion," and the actual program as it can be traced in real life, we shall now view those plans which were future when the Protocols were uttered. It must be borne in mind, however, that what was future in 1896 and 1905, may be past today, that what was plan then may be fulfillment now. To bear this in mind will be in exact accord with the expression of Protocol 22--"I have endeavored to indicate carefully the secrets of past and future events, and of those momentous occurrences of the near future toward which we are rushing in a stream of great crises." Some of those "momentous occurrences" have come to pass, an with them a brighter light on the Question which we are studying.

An illustration of this which is fresh in the minds of all was furnished by the Great War. Jewish comment on this series of articles has made much of the fact that one of the articles was devoted to the then prominence of the Jewish Question in Germany, and it was sought to mislead the people to think that this series was really a part of subtle German after-the-war propaganda. The fact is that articles on the Question in a number of countries were set aside in order to bring the Question itself prominently before the minds of Americans with the least delay. The postponed articles will appear in due season, though out of their order. Germany is today, with perhaps the possible exception of the United States, the most Jew-controlled country in the world--controlled within and from without--and a much stronger set of facts could be presented now than was presented in the original article (the facts of which were at first denied and later admitted by the Jewish spokesmen in the United States.) For, since that article was written, public sentiment in Germany has swept the Jews largely out of public office. German public opinion exerted itself to the utmost to put German political administration back into German hands. But did that liberate Germany from the Jews? Not at all. For their entrenchments stretched further and deeper than mere display of official power. Their hold on the basic industries, the finances, the future of Germany has not been loosened in the least. It is there, unmovable. In what that hold consists, the reader will be told at some convenient time.

Germany is mentioned now in connection with the Jews, for this purpose: It will be remembered that it was from Germany that the first cry of "annexations" came, and it came at a time when all German war activities and war sentiment were admittedly in Jewish control. "Annexations" was the cry that flashed across the United States, a nation that was not even a party to the war at that time, the word flashed back, "No Annexations." Thus by a dramatic play the whole question was thrust before the world.

Soon the people of all countries had forgotten the blood of battle, the war profiteers and every other vital point, and were discussing a matter which belonged to the end of the war and not the beginning, the question of "annexations." Now, when it is known who were controlling the formulation of war-aims in Germany and who were the chief counselors of the foreign policy of the United States at the same time, the projection of this question of "annexations" into the world's mind becomes interesting; interesting but not wholly intelligible.

Not until you read the Protocols do you get a full light on this--and this report of the Protocols which is now given the world probably dates from 1896: There is absolutely ironclad proof of the date 1905.

The Second Protocol begins on the note of war, and its opening words are these:

"It is indispensable for our purpose that, as far as possible, wars should bring no territorial advantages. This will shift war to an economic footing, and nations will perceive the strength of our superiority in the aid we render."

In the Protocols there are two forms of declaration. One is, "we have." The other is, "we shall." If somewhere in the world this summer the high secret spokesman of the World Program is addressing his class of International Initiates, he will have to say "we have" in many places where the spokesman of 1896 said "we shall." Things have been accomplished.

"We will represent ourselves as the saviors of the laboring classes." That has been and is being done. "We will deflect the thoughts of the Gentiles to industry and commerce." That has been done. "We will create a strongly centralized administration so as to grasp all the social forces strongly in our hands." That has been done. "We will adopt for ourselves the liberal side of all parties and all movements and provide orators." That has been done. "We will at the same time cause a rise in the price of prime necessities." That has been done. "We will also undermine the sources of production by instilling in the workmen ideas of anarchy." That has been done.

"To demonstrate our enslavement of the Gentile governments of Europe, we shall show our power to one by crimes of violence, that is, by a reign of terror."--Protocol 7.

Who that sees Russia and beholds the attitude of the premiers of England, France and Italy toward the Soviets, the "enslavement" of statesmanship by a condition that tangles more gnarledly the more it is dealt with--who that sees the prostration of Europe before a wound that is deliberately kept from healing, can forbear to say: That too has been done!

"Our plans will not upset contemporary institutions immediately. Their management will only be altered and consequently the whole procedure of their activity will thus be directed according to plans laid down by us." That has been done.

"We shall saddle the press and keep a tight rein upon it." That has been done. The rein is being strongly pulled in the United States at this moment, as many an editor can testify.

"Even if there should be those who desire to write against us, no one will print their writings." In large part, that has been done. It has been done completely with the profit-making press.

"We shall, as an incentive to speculation, encourage among the Gentiles a strong demand for luxuries--all-enticing luxuries." That has been done.

"To each act of opposition we must be in a position to respond by bringing on war through the neighbors of any country that dares to oppose us, and if these neighbors should plan to stand collectively against us, we must let loose a world war." (Protocol 7). The term "world war" is the same as that used by Rosenthal and Nordau, "Herzl knows," said Nordau in 1903, "that we stand before a tremendous upheaval of the whole world."

"We must create unrest, dissension and mutual animosities throughout Europe and, with the help of her relationships, on other continents." This has been done. This passage continues: "There is a double advantage in this. First, we shall command the respect of all countries by this method, for they will realize that we have the power to create disorder or establish order at will." This too has been done.

Truly did the spokesman of 1896 speak of "those momentous occurrences of the near future toward which we are rushing in a stream of great crises."

Not only was "no annexations" achieved "as far as possible," just as the Protocols outlined it, but a host of other plans have matured in achievement along with it. "No annexations" as a matter of political morality is one thing; and "no annexations" for the reason that "this will shift war to an economic footing and nations will perceive the strength of our superiority in the aid we render" is quite another thing. The world was with the "no annexations" program as a matter of political morality; the other program, which used this morality as its vehicle, was hidden.

There are still other matters in this group which must receive attention, but another article will be necessary to do it. In the meantime, it is natural to wonder whether, with the program as outlined in this report of the Protocols having received fulfillment in so many particulars, a new Protocol, or a further unfolding of the Ladder has been made by the Wise Men to their Initiates; and whether any additional unveiling will ever come to the knowledge of the world. It would seem that a proper estimate of the knowledge now available would lead to such an awakening as to nullify the present program and make all future ones impossible. But Gentiles like their ease, and Judah is beckoned on by a bright star.

"DER STURMER" IS BACK WE SALUTE JULIUS STREICHER

The greatest Anti-Jewish Patriot of this century was Julius Streicher. Here was a man who was clearly murdered to appease the Jew. Julius Streicher was condemned to death and hanged by the illegal Nuremberg Tribunal. Streicher could in no way have been considered a war criminal. He was not in the Army and had no troops of any kind underneath him. Julius Streicher was merely the publisher of a newspaper called "Der Sturmer". It told the truth about the Jews (which, in itself, was too much for the Jews.) For years Der Sturmer was the world's leading journal against international Jewry. Since his death by hanging, the Jews have added the name of Streicher to that of Hamen whose murders the blood thirsty Jews celebrate at Purim. "Der Sturmer" was the same size as that of "The Thunderbolt", often it had 12 pages (as does "The Thunderbolt"). There can be no doubt that the Jews would like to have us murdered also for telling the people about their devilry.

The man who hanged Streicher was Jewish. It is interesting to note that the noose around Streicher's neck was loose and it failed to break his neck when the hangman's trap door dropped him below the scaffold. The torturous moans and groans of a slowly strangling man drove a U.S. Military Officer to dive under the scaffold onto Streicher's legs, thus pulling him down and hastening his death. During the trial Streicher stated that he was tortured by Jewish officers, (forced to drink his own urine, left naked in a cold damp cell, etc.) All this was stricken from the official record. There was never the slightest bit of evidence that Streicher (a newspaper publisher) could have been in any way connected with any war crime. He simply had offended the International criminal Jews, and thusly had to pay with his life. For this reason we have decided that Julius Streicher must not be forgotten. And above all that these murdering Jews killed this man for using freedom of the press to expose the crimes of the Jews.

In honor of Julius Streicher, we have published the most famous edition he ever printed. The May, 1934, "Jewish Ritual Murder" issue of "Der Sturmer". This historic work is an ideal companion to our book, "Jewish Ritual Murder." This unique reprint is available on a limited basis for 50¢ each, or 3 for $1. If you are a student of Judaism, ("Jewish Ritual Murder") this is a must. If you merely want a souvenir to honor a great Patriot this is a must. But, especially, if you can read German, know others who can, or have named of people in Germany who would like to have a copy, this will be an issue you will most definitely want. 13 pictures or drawings, including a picture of the Great Julius Streicher himself. At the bottom of every issue, on his front page Streicher always wrote in large black type: "Die Juden Sind Unser Unglück". "The Jews are our misfortune." Now available, 50¢ each 3 for $1., order direct from NSRP, P.O. Box 783, Birmingham, Ala.

24 The Arizona Republic

Phoenix, Wed., April 24, 1963

Query For Critic

Editor, The Arizona Republic

In the April 18 Republic, you published a letter from Roy Cooksey in which he asked a question relative to my concern about the Negro problem across America. I will stand on my record on this and let my actions be the answer, but I would like to throw that question right back to Mr. Cooksey and the NAACP, which today seems more interested in left-wing politics than in what is happening in Congress relative to ending discrimination.

I give him this example: Two weeks ago, I offered anti-discrimination amendments in the full committee to the Youth Conservation Corps bill, but these were defeated with every so-called liberal on the Democratic side and the Republican side voting against them. In the Senate, when this bill was before us, three anti-discrimination amendments were offered; one minor one was accepted and the other two important ones were defeated with nearly all liberals on both sides voting against them.

These are the people the NAACP backs. These are the people who have consistently voted against my anti-discrimination amendments to labor bills. The NAACP backs these people while attacking those of us who have consistently and vociferously opposed segregation. If, as Mr. Cooksey says, they simply checked the records, then let him ask the leaders of the NAACP why they did not support and have never supported anti-discrimination amendments to legislation.

GOLDWATER AGAINST THIRD PARTY

Don't form third party, South urged

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 30—(AP)—Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater—the apostle of Republican conservatism—says the GOP hasn't been "Republican enough."

"We've tried to copy the New Deal, Fair Deal and New Frontier," Goldwater told 1,500 cheering Mississippians Thursday night at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner.

"We can't outpromise them. All we should promise is adherence to the Constitution."

GOLDWATER advised the South to loop to the GOP and not to a third party to provide conservative leadership. He charged that President Kennedy's New Frontier movement was the radical left, but Southerners should not react by starting a third party.

"If I thought it (a third party) would work, I'd be out leading the pack," he said.

CHATTANOOGA:

Prelude to Change

A month before the violence at Oxford, Chattanooga's public schools desegregated peacefully, without headlines. This is how it happened.

By MORTON J. SOBEL

"The good people were resolved to make it work": Chattanooga's Glenwood School.

A MONTH before the storm burst over Oxford, Mississippi, a totally different type of desegregation event took place in Chattanooga, Tennessee. On August 29—almost within view of Lookout Mountain, famed Civil War battle scene—more than fifty Negro children walked quietly through the portals of schools new to them. Thus Chattanooga became the fourth major city in the state to desegregate its public schools. It did so without violence, calmly, with barely a headline.

There are a variety of heroes of Chattanooga's unsung success story. One of them is Dr. Bennie E. Carmichael, Chattanooga's school superintendent who came from the George Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville to put his principles of human relations education into practice. In Chattanooga, Dr. Carmichael found all the usual problems faced by top school administration: budget, staff, physical facilities, the need to give "quality education" to all students. But the problem of desegregation gave him his greatest challenge.

The Chattanooga Board of Education, within two months after the 1954 Supreme Court decision, had issued a public statement of compliance based upon respect and acceptance of the law. The next year, it issued a clarifying statement.

Doctor Sobel is director of ADL's department of colleges and universities.

An interracial advisory committee was set up but its meeting came to nothing. Acts of violence broke them up; community antagonism was aroused; charges and counter-charges abounded. The Board decided to wait things out. It also embarked on a program of what it called "Elucidation" and met more than 200 times in the next five years to study all aspects of the problem.

Eventually, with the help of consultants such as Harvard University's Thomas F. Pettigrew, a plan for desegregation was formulated. It was a model of its kind. The responsibility for putting it into action was divided among three groups: a citizens committee to handle community preparation; the police department to assure safety and law enforcement; the board of education and school administrative staff to develop understanding and acceptance among both teachers and students.

THE CHAIRMAN of the citizens committee, William Brock, president of the Brock Candy Co., recognized the need for professional assistance. He met with members of the Anti-Defamation League's Southeastern regional staff in Atlanta late in 1961. ADL staff members frequently traveled to Chattanooga and met with key persons involved in preparing the community for the day. There were discussions with public and police officials, business, civic and religious leaders, Negro and white, newspaper editors and school people. There were many things to talk about: What had other communities done? Will local or national hate groups step in and make trouble? How to safeguard Jewish and Christian institutions? What is the best program for in-service teacher education? How to make use of the mass media?

There was agreement that proper police training was a matter of top priority. All three shifts of the Chattanooga police force took a workshop program led by Chief of Police E. C. Hale of Lexington, Kentucky, an exponent of proper police training in dealing with minority group problems. The Community Relations Committee of the Jewish Welfare Federation provided copies of ADL's "With Justice For All," a guide to good conduct in race tension situations, to the 400 police officers and auxiliary members of the force. Another fifty copies went to the Hamilton County law enforcement staff.

There were two phases to the major part of the program worked out among city school officials in consultation with the ADL. The first phase started with a meeting on January 9, 1962, of all 49 public school principals, all Central Office staff members, and a select group of 42 teachers. This was not the first integrated staff meeting in the history of the Chattanooga public school system, but it had a different and hopeful spirit. The long sessions, which carried over into the night, started with a presentation on classroom

GOLDWATER URGES TROOPS BE USED AGAINST SOUTH

IN BRIEF

ANDOVER, Mass., May 8—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona said Tuesday that law alone will not change man's feelings for man, but added that federal troops should be used when local law enforcement and the National Guard cannot control racial demonstrations in the South.

Goldwater, speaking at Phillips Academy, said it will take education, church teachings and home environment, coupled with laws to bring about changes in human nature. The Arizona Republican added that Negroes may not be patient enough to wait on such changes.

MONTGOMERY—State Rep. Ullie B. Sullivan of Pickens has called for the dismissal of school teachers who may have had part in "egging" Negro children to march in racial demonstrations in Birmingham.

MONTGOMERY—Members of the "Black Muslim" cult are closely watching the racial demonstrations in Birmingham, according to Chief W. L. Allen of the Alabama Department of Public Safety.

JEWS BACK GOLDWATER

In the April 29th issue of the "U.S. News & World Report" David Lawrence starts the big build up for Goldwater for President. They actually work out state by state formulas whereby Goldwater could win. For a long time now the National States Rights Party has been warning the public to beware of these so-called "good" Jews. Often the enemy will plant a "sleeper" in our ranks who will write 'favorable' articles to the right wing for a long time. Then all at once we find ourselves stabbed in the back. The case of the late George Sokolsky is a perfect example. For many years patriots thought they had at last found a good conservative Jew in Sokolsky. Then one day he starts quoting from the ADL Velde Report denouncing all patriots.

This current issue of "U.S. News" contains a double blast at the right wing. Worst of all is the build up of that Jew Goldwater (Goldwasser). But, in the same issue there appears an article entitled "An Interview with Roy Wilkins, Head of the NAACP." This headline is repeated over this feature article. The Editor of "U.S. News & World Report" (Jew, David Lawrence) knows just as well as we do that there has never been a Negro at the head of the NAACP. The President of the NAACP is Arthur Springarn. He has run the NAACP since 1939, when his brother Joel Springarn died (Joel was NAACP President since its founding.) The NAACP is a JEWISH organization and is kept firmly inside the Springarn family. Head of the powerful NAACP legal arm is the Jew, Jack Greenberg, chief fundraiser is the Jew, Kevie Kaplan.

THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS A JEW, RIGHT WINGER. They are fakes, what we call "KOSHER CONSERVATIVES." David Lawrence and Sen. Barry Goldwater are both Jews. They are our enemies. They are trying to take over the growing Right Wing in America. David Lawrence is covering up the Jewishness of the NAACP as well as the Jewishness of Communism.

Chattanooga Birmingham Forewarned!

"In the shadow of Lookout Mountain": Chattanooga is now the fourth major city in Tennessee to desegregate its public schools.

practices in integrated schools by Dr. Harry Bard, president of Baltimore Junior College, and a film, "A City Decides," describing the St. Louis, Missouri, desegregation process. The rest of the day was devoted to intensified study of desegregation problems, including a special session on leadership for the teachers who were to head discussion groups with the full staff the following week.

THE TEACHERS had their hearts in their work. One woman, who explained that she had been a segregationist all of her life, said she felt that she could not lead the discussion the following week because "after what I've learned today I'm afraid I'll clobber anyone who expresses segregationist feelings."

A young Negro teacher also asked to withdraw; she was afraid that her presence might inhibit free discussion. But both teachers were more interested in the success of the program than their own reactions; they were urged to remain and both did.

Phase two of the integration of Chattanooga's school system began early in the morning of January 18, 1962. Gathered with fifty community leaders of the city and more than 1,200 school teachers and administrators were human relations experts, social workers, psychiatrists, University of Chattanooga faculty members, and educators from previously desegregated communities of the South.

The teachers were organized into small work groups, so that the consultants could delve deeply into the subjects of integration, prejudice and human dignity. Not all was serene. It had been hoped, from the beginning, that anti-Semitism would not be evoked because of the ADL and other Jewish participation in the program. But in at least one session, a participant blurted, "Why do we have these New York Jews come down here and take over?"

Another time, a teacher walked out of a human relations clinic led by an ADL consultant and told a local administrator, "That so-and-so said that I'm prejudiced." "Well, are you?" the administrator asked.

"Of course I am," he answered, "but I don't need him to tell me that."

BUT THESE inevitable flareups were reserved to the meeting room. Above all, there was the determination to maintain a professional outlook on the whole matter. This was typically expressed by a teacher who said, "I was born and raised in Chattanooga and have always believed in segregation. Now I have decided that being a professional educator is more important, and I shall do the best I can for all of the children."

The good people of Chattanooga were as resolved to make the program work. Coupled with the January 18 and 19 meetings of the educators was a TV program presented to the entire city. Speaking to the general population were Dr. Carmichael, Mayor Olgiati, the county judge, the sheriff, the commissioner of fire and police, the attorney general and the president of the chamber of commerce.

The program, which was to be shown again and again in the following months, reiterated one point: The city of Chattanooga would adhere to law and order and violence would not be tolerated.

More than 200 clergymen, after listening to an address by the mayor and the county judge, volunteered to speak on desegregation from their pulpits. One hundred persons took a one-day workshop course as discussion leaders, then went out into the city to hold group meetings.

Each employer in Chattanooga received a letter signed by four of the city's most prominent industrialists urging that every influence be exerted in the name of law, order and peaceful transition.

Payroll inserts, prepared by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and addressed to all employees, were included in each letter for distribution to all employees. If anyone in Chattanooga missed some type of appeal to his citizenship and understanding, it was not due to lack of effort on the part of communal leadership.

CHATTANOOGA has its share of problems, including unemployment, and one of the lines used in attacking desegregation was that "Segregation is for the rich—integration is for the poor." The city also has a fair amount of Klan and National States Rights Party activity.

It was not surprising, therefore, when a Chattanooga Citizens Council was organized by a local dentist in July. It was affiliated with the Citizens Councils of America of Jackson, Mississippi, and boasted of a seventy-five member board of directors. But because of the program of education of citizens, teachers and police, because of the positive stands taken by Kiwanis and many other civic groups, the Citizens Council had little of the impact of similar groups in Little Rock, New Orleans, or Mississippi.

The full story of Chattanooga, the largest and most important city of the forty-five school districts which desegregated this fall, is now being written. It will give the details of the effective cooperation between a private intergroup relations agency—ADL—and a public school system in behalf of a vital democratic purpose. Phi Delta Kappa, the honorary education fraternity, will co-sponsor its publication along with the league.

Fifty small children from the first, second and third grades, walked into desegregated schools for the first time that day in August. It was more than token desegregation and it was done without violence, without headlines. When it is published, the full story will unquestionably serve as a model for other communities and school districts still facing their crises. And it will give comfort to the nation which has just suffered through the ordeal of Oxford.

BLACK MUSLIMS ON JEWS

FROM "PLAYBOY"
MAY 1962

PLAYBOY: On what grounds do you attribute these "isms" to the Christian Church?

MALCOLM X: Where did fascism start? Where's the second-largest Communist party outside of Russia? The answer to both is Italy. Where is the Vatican? But let's not forget the Jew. Anybody that gives even a just criticism of the Jew is instantly labeled anti-Semite. The Jew cries louder than anybody else if anybody criticizes him. You can tell the truth about any minority in America, but make a true observation about the Jew, and if it doesn't pat him on the back, then he uses his grip on the news media to label you anti-Semite. Let me say just a word about the Jew and the black man. The Jew is always anxious to advise the black man. But they never advise him how to solve his problem the way the Jews solved their problem. The Jew never went sitting-in and crawling-in and sliding-in and freedom-riding, like he teaches and helps Negroes to do. The Jews stood up, and stood together, and they used their ultimate power, the economic weapon. That's exactly what the Honorable Elijah Muhammad is trying to teach black men to do. The Jews pooled their money and bought the hotels that barred them. They bought Atlantic City and Miami Beach and anything else they wanted. Who owns Hollywood? Who runs the garment industry, the largest industry in New York City? But the Jew that's advising the Negro joins the NAACP, CORE, the Urban League, and others. With money donations, the Jew gains control, then he sends the black man doing all this wading-in, boring-in, even burying-in—everything but buying-in. Never shows him how to set up factories and hotels. Never advises him how to own what he wants. No, when there's something worth owning, the Jew's got it.

Jews Back Convicted Spy

"FREE MORTON SOBELL!"

(Editorial in the National Jewish Post and Opinion, Dec. 22, 1961)
"WE can see no gain for democracy in continuing to keep Morton Sobell in prison.

"Enough qualified American and world leaders have expressed doubt about the testimony surrounding his conviction to warrant even those who are not fully aware of the intimate details of the case to take the position that he has paid his debt to society and should be freed by executive action.

"The government claims Sobell becomes eligible for parole only on Aug. 4, 1962. His attorneys deny this, arguing that he actually began his imprisonment months before he was sentenced and therefore was eligible for parole this past April. Whichever are the facts, it would seem that justice will best be served by giving him now the parole which he very likely will get 10 months from now.

"Because Sobell is Jewish many Jews may have felt impelled to reticence. This is unworthy of any of us. Any Jew or any Jewish group who feels that Sobell should be pardoned will enhance their Jewishness by stating so openly and with vigor. We are as guilty as any other in not having called for a review of the case long before this. As it is, we now ask that President Kennedy free the man."
